

प्रबंधन की कलम

Dear ADIANS,

Looking back at the last month, we can rightly say it was nothing less than a roller coaster ride for us. We began the month with the celebration of Women's Day thereby reflecting our eternal respect towards Women. Then suddenly we received the heartbreaking news of our beloved CA Rajjat Jain's demise. However, as they say "Show Must Go On" we witnessed that ADCA Cricket League 2019 was full of spirit, enthusiasm and entertainment. Colourful celebration of Holi at AD with Thandai was also a delightful event. Not to forget "Twins Day" was also celebrated by great participation of the ADIANS making it a hit event. Finally, we ended our month by Welcoming New ADIANS, celebrating birthday of existing ADIANS along with our beloved Alok Sir and bidding farewell to the leaving ADIANS!!!

" If you are feeling Hurt"

In the middle of a beautiful city, there was a museum. The floor in the museum was laid with marble tiles, and right in the centre of the foyer was a huge marble statue as a part of the display. Many people from all over the world visited the museum everyday and admired the beautifully crafted statue.

One night, one of the marble tiles on the floor started talking to the marble statue, " hey statue, we are originally from the same town. We were picked up from the same mine, transported on the same lorry, brought to the very same sculptor. Why then do people from all over the world come all the way here just to step on me. While they admire and praise you so much? This is so unfair"

The marble statue replied" my dear friend do you remember how both of us sat there side by side in the sculptor's workshop in our original forms as marble blocks? And do you recollect how the sculptor chose to work on you first? He started using his tools on you simply to turn you into. Masterpiece But you resisted. You started falling apart. " Of course I remember said the marble tile " I hate that guy. How could he use those sharp tools on me. It hurt so badly."

The marble statue continued. That's right. When you couldn't take the pain of his tools he decided to give up on you and start working on me instead. I knew at once, that if I had to be something different, I would have to bear the pain of the sharp tools he used on me.

My dear friend,

There is a price to everything in life. Since you decided to give up halfway you cannot blame anybody who steps on you now. Life as a sculptor, wants to make a masterpiece out of you.

The question is whether you are ready to handle every test, every hard knocks, every trouble, every failure all the pain that comes from these sculpting tools and become a masterpiece or do you grumble and crumble down to simply become a tile. That is what decides whether people step on you or admire you as you become a role model for someone to emulate.
